Title	Have you Stretched Today / Emotional Intelligence
Presenter	Sonal Sheth Zawahri
Abstract Have you Stretched Today With our focus on health and wellness today, we spend a lot of our resources discovering and engaging in ways to move and stretch our bodies. It's easy to forget that there needs to be a balance, and that it is just as important to stretch our minds. What do we need to stretch our minds? Learn the process of building your communication skills, and your leadership style in order to see SHIFT happen. We can't move forward with success without intention, which is the compass we need for success. Learn how to be open to something different and create a new vision of how things can be done. Emotional Intelligence Emotional intelligence is a key component to being successful in business. It helps you to be a better communicator, collaborator and leader. During this presentation, you will learn the four key components of Emotional Intelligence: Self Awareness, Self-Management, Social Awareness and Relationship Management. You will also learn how to assess your EI, improve it and utilize it to be more successful. About Sonal Inspiring business leaders to identify their purpose and guiding them toward the achievement of meaningful success and contribution to others. As the President of Tru You LLC, it is Sonal Sheth Zawahri's passion to inspire others to find their true selves, and assist them in bringing that to fruition. Sonal works locally, regionally, and nationally as a speaker, consultant and lifestyle coach. Sonal works with groups and individuals on professional development, communication and leadership, Emotional Intelligence, confidence building, behavior and image. She coaches clients on showing up in their authentic self, stepping into their power, and tapping into their intuition, using it to shine from the inside out. Sonal has presented to and worked with Fortune 500 companies and organizations such as Eli Lilly, Kar Auction, Fervent Prayer Church, Audacity, Nimblejack, Rocketbuild, PMI, BDPA and others on 'Soft' Skills, Emotional Intelligence, Communication, Leadership Skills and other industry leading topics necessary for the development and sustainability of an effective, efficient and productive organization.

Title	Case Study: How to Solve Your Production Schedule Challenges with Oracle Production Scheduling
Presenter	Jeff Dahlgard, Nexinfo Solutions, Inc
Abstract
The implementation of Production Scheduling (PS) paired with Advanced Supply Chain Planning (ASCP) and Oracle Process Manufacturing (OPM) is an outstanding solution for addressing biologics and pharma-specific processes to create a plan and a constrained schedule to successfully run manufacturing. Case-in-point: The solution NexInfo created for one of our biologics clients. Solution handled scheduling issues such as back-to-back biologics steps, step dependencies, step material associations, creating Recipe and routings to map repetitive operation steps, as well as for cleaning and steaming. Customizations can be done to meet certain business objectives using pre and post connector scripts to enable added features and capabilities in PS.
